

Funding Announcement Jack and Eleanor Borden Kosher Meal Fund

- Who: Nonprofit Senior Nutrition Programs, Hunger Relief Agencies
- What: Kosher meal grants of up to $1,000 to establish or expand Kosher meal services for Jewish seniors in need.
- Why: Too often Jewish seniors, who want to remain healthy and viable members of their communities, are forced either to give up keeping Kosher or go hungry altogether, because the support system in their community does not have the resources or the will to care for them.
- When: Deadline to submit proposals - January 18, 2013
Announcement of grant winners - February 2, 2013
- Contact: For inquiries, contact Matt Levine, NFESH's Chief Operating Officer (COO) at matt@nfesh.org or 571-312-2675.

About the Jack and Eleanor Borden Kosher Meal Fund: In 1997, Enid Borden, Founder, President and Chief Executive Officer of the National Foundation to End Senior Hunger (NFESH), created the Jack & Eleanor Borden Kosher Meal Fund. Through the fund, community-based senior nutrition programs across the country have received Kosher meal grants to establish or expand Kosher meal services for Jewish seniors in need. NFESH invites all nonprofit senior nutrition programs and other hunger relief agencies to apply for this grant opportunity this year. Grant proposals will be accepted until January 18, 2013 at nfesh@nfesh.org. Grant winners will be announced on February 12, 2013, Jack and Eleanor Borden's wedding anniversary.

About the National Foundation to End Senior Hunger:

The National Foundation to End Senior Hunger (NFESH), formerly the Meals On Wheels Research Foundation, works every day in its mission of engaging new partners to provide answers and create solutions that can end senior hunger. Our activities are organized under three key areas: Community Table projects; Communications; and Research. To learn more, visit NFESH's website at www.nfesh.org and contact nfesh@nfesh.org to be added to our "Rooftops" newsletter listserv launching in January 2013.
